

Public Art Plan Refresh

GC | April 23, 2025

Rachel Pennington, Public Art Curator

Parks & Culture Planning, PF&E

92+ artworks

115+ artists

17+ neighbourhoods

Marc Fornes THEVERYMANY, Pine Sanctuary, 2017

The image shows a large, modern, multi-level atrium with curved balconies and a central light installation. The balconies are illuminated with blue light, and the central light installation consists of many vertical, glowing tubes that change color from blue to green. The ceiling is a large, circular skylight with a grid pattern. The overall atmosphere is futuristic and high-tech.

One of Canada's only dedicated streams for digital public art

Canada's first public art equity audit

Nathan Whitford, Lightfall, 2023

One of Canada's few works of public land art in a permanent collection

Diane Borsato, ORCHARD, 2019

Our first monument was community-led and crowd-funded (over $350,000 raised by residents)

The Public Art Plan (2025) was developed by the City's public art program

Local feedback solicited through a public survey and integration with Future Directions

Program evaluation and equity audit

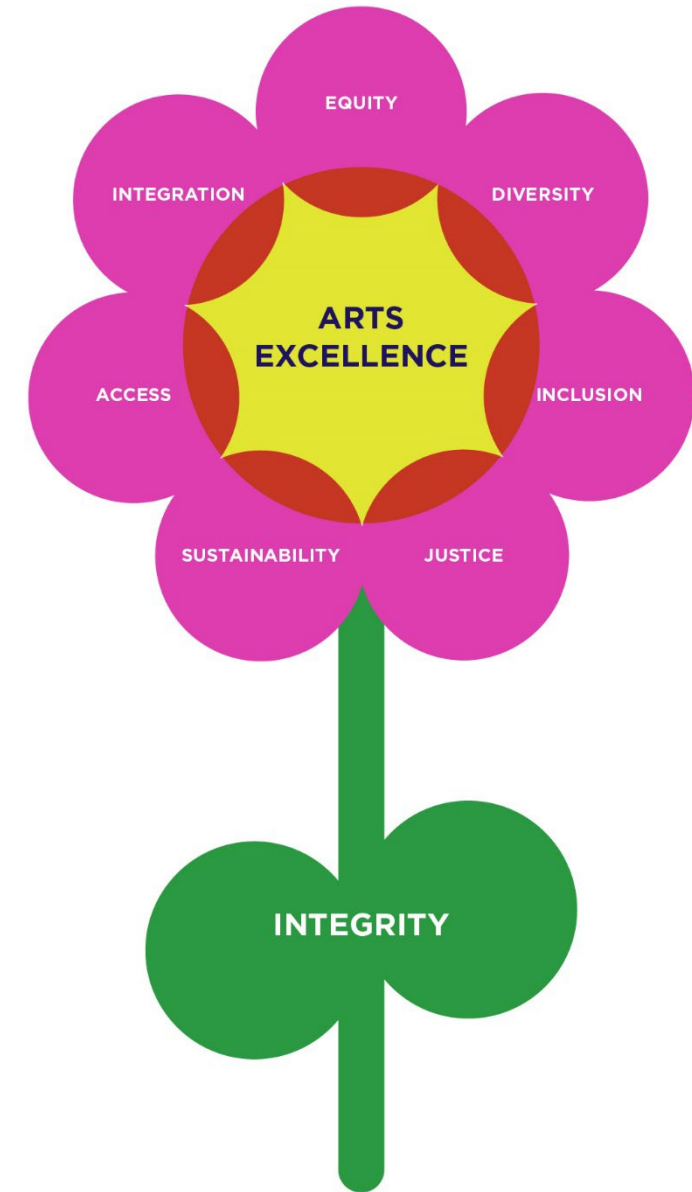

Country-wide benchmarking and consultations

Internal review for impact and feasibility

1. Guiding Principles

- We believe that artistic excellence is achieved when the needs and values of the public are centered
- Our guiding principles are: Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, Justice, Sustainability, Access, Integration and Integrity
- Each guiding principle presents ongoing practices that staff can utilize (e.g. hosting accessible events will further Inclusion, supporting City-wide strategies will further Integration).

2. Priority Zones

- Locations for public art, with clear rationale for prioritizing budgets and allocating resources
 - Each zone recommends context-specific curatorial themes and artwork ideas, which were selected by local residents through a public survey
1. Infrastructure Projects
 2. Heritage Sites
 3. Cultural Districts and Pedestrian Spaces within Intensification Areas
 4. Waterfront
 5. Major Transit Hubs, Corridors, and Active Transportation Routes

3. Key Recommendations

- The Public Art Plan renews six recommendations from the 2016 Public Art Master Plan
- The Public Art Plan identifies eight new recommendations
- These are specific public art projects, policy proposals, funding and partnership opportunities that can be realized in the next five years
- There are no financial impacts

Public art in new and redeveloped destination parks

More opportunities for artists from equity-deserving groups

Vivian Rosas, Blissful Release, 2021

Fully accessible permanent public art collection

Indigenous public art, especially on and near the Waterfront

Emily Kewageshig, Flame of Life, 2023

Public art along active transportation routes

Bau and Cos, Living Root Bridge, 2024

Review acquisition processes for Memorial Art

Encourage public art contributions from private developments over 10,000 m² with certain exceptions

Harley Valentine and Gabriel Fain, Gala Gateway, 2017, co-commissioned with Amacon

Explore program options to beautify construction sites

Develop a Percent for Public Art funding strategy for eligible municipal capital projects

RAW Design, Fossil Record, 2017

Fairly compensate arts professionals and Indigenous communities

Linh Thai painting Finding Home, 2019

