Pedal your ideas and join the conversation on cycling

The City is seeking feedback on its Cycling Master Plan update. Join an in-person or virtual open house or take the survey.

Whether you're someone who rides a bicycle regularly, are new to cycling or are thinking of getting on a bicycle, you can help shape the future of cycling in Mississauga. The City is updating its Cycling Master Plan and is looking for your input. The Cycling Master Plan is a long-term plan that maps out the City's goals for designing and implementing cycling infrastructure and programs in Mississauga. The plan's goals aim to make cycling safer and more comfortable, build a more accessible cycling network and encourage cycling as a part of a healthy lifestyle.

The Cycling Master Plan is updated every five years to ensure the plan aligns with new and changing guidelines and the needs and values of residents. It's important to gather diverse perspectives and address challenges related to cycling in Mississauga.

As part of the Cycling Master Plan update, the City will:

- Update Mississauga's planned network to improve cycling connections and follow new design guidance.
- Develop a more equitable approach to growing the cycling network in Mississauga.
- Prioritize connections to create a continuous network of cycling infrastructure like bike lanes, cycle tracks, multi-use trails and park trails that accommodate all ages and abilities.
- Make a five-year plan to connect the network.
- Work with interested parties, residents and external partners so that projects can be implemented and supported by the community.
